VALUES

PRACTICING TRANSPARENCY

Although Betrayed's lore focuses on a scam developer, the team vows for transparency from the beginning of and during the project. With a clear intent of building trust between the community and the team, transparency is vital in achieving it. The team encourages the community members to also take part in the building and development of the project and its supporters.

ABOUT BETRAYED

Betrayed is an ERC20 token that is based on the real-life problem of scam developers that all holders have experienced. Since all cryptocurrency investors have encountered one or more of the like, the team found it funny to poke fun at a serious problem

The maximum supply is [...] and [...]. The project will have 0% tax on both buy and sell transactions as the contract will be completely renounced from the beginning.

The smart contract of Betrayed has been examined and has been given a green signal through the use of an audit, which ensures that the team is willing and able to practice transparency for the holders' trust.

Betrayed is and always will be a community-driven project, with constant additions to the liquidity by its unending line of supporters and investors across different platforms.

THE LORE

The Developer is an evil scammer that lures in his victims through the use of trends within the cryptocurrency space. With seemingly perfect graphics and roadmap, investors are baited into investing in him. What they don't know is that the Developer will trap them and continuously exploit them to lure in more and more people. Although a chance of freedom is promised, he does not actually intend to free them from this endless loop of betrayal. As investors continue to betray other investors, they fall into a deep, dark hole, becoming unintentional villains themselves.

New investors can, then, choose if they want to participate and join the Developer on his wicked quest of trapping people or join the minority to fight him.
